

Hearts are Found, Not Won in Battle

I have not always been the greatest man
But I've found myself in the greatest land
And with this, I must do the best I can
In the name of Love and Peace, not war.

Blind Prey

The eyes see
The eyes watch
The eyes admire
The eyes wander
The eyes close
The eyes show
But never tell.

Look
Out
Up
And
Below.

Shunted
Closed
Gouged
Made to see
Blinded by ignorance
Gifted by bliss
Grifted by all.

Far Away and Close

There is a place
Far away
There's is hope
Far away
There is love
Far away

There is faith
Far away
There is belief
Far away
There is worship
Far away

For every far away
There is a home

For every far away
There is love

For every far away
There is joy

For every far away
There is happiness

The mind travels
And so does everything else.

The Cloak We Wear and Tear

Where the trees make sound
Where the snow falls
Is where you'll find and lose thee
Dancing in the rays of thee inner sun.

Patiently roaming and leaving tracks
Wolves follow and bears climb
Bulls smash and rodents burry
Hurry, before the land's barren.

Storms-a-coming.

In thy heart, find thy soul
Dig deep enough
And you'll find thyself
Cloaked in pain, and shadowed by love.

Forever.

Folly of Fools

Looking down into the Abyss
The trains eye falls of the cliff
Thrashed against the walls of justice
Decimated on impact
Lost
And never found.
