

Title: Who is He?

Who is He? Who is He to you?

He who will save us from our cries,

Who knows our secrets even in disguise,

And who longs to fill the empty void in our lives.

Who is He? Who is He to you?

The world moves on endlessly each day

Through its past traumas and mistakes.

It keeps rotating itself over and over again

In its selfishness, greed, and darkness.

Is there someone who will love us unconditionally?

Who will be enough for our desires and emptiness?

Does someone hear the deepest wants of our hearts?

Will someone still hold us when we fall apart?

The Lord Jesus is more than words on still pages

Which still speak louder than a million stages.

The Lord Almighty is not a mere legend, but the life-changing truth

Who still chases down after our stubborn hearts

And never ceases to prove that He is just and good.

But, what if we never get to know our Creator?

What if we never grab the chance to speak to the Savior?

What if we stay in darkness for all eternity?

What if we lose that precious opportunity?

Title: Who is He?

He who died and sacrificed himself on the cross
Is not a far-away God;
Not one who will betray you because of your problems.
He who would die a million times again to save you,
Has no evil in his heart;
No malice, no hate, and no bad intention,
Just unfailing love, holiness, and justice.

Who is He? Who is He to you?
Will you live your life in vain?
And see that in the end
There was always someone right by your side,
Trying to warn you from the loud lies
Of the enemy, by trying to make you hear the quiet,
But resounding voice of the one, true God
Who is the only way Heaven.
Who is He? Who is He to you?
