

*Where is my knight in shining armor?
From this dragon I need saved
For a real man to have me
He must be strong and brave*

*Where is my handsome prince?
Come and save me from this hex
I am so afraid I wonder
What is coming next?*

*Where is my handsome cowboy?
To ride in and save my day
Been lost for so long now
And abandoned like a stray*

*Where is my fearless superman?
With all his courage and powers
Feel like running away
And disappearing like a coward*

*Been disconnected and confused
Afraid I will never be missed
Wishing for my hero
But does he truly exist?*

Fate has decided to keep us apart
The cruelty of it all is lost on my heart
The long lonely days, the miles in between
Maybe we should've just admitted defeat
Lying awake, alone in the night
Cannot fall asleep. How is this right?
Hate being apart. You're so far away
Longing for the day I will feel your embrace
Holding on tight to the dreams we have planned
Soon we'll be together, your hand in my hand
Reunited we will be, just a little bit longer
You reassure me that we will be stronger

Which path do I choose? Which way do I go?
The right course to follow, I should probably know
Left or right, east or west
Finding myself on a meaningful quest
Twists and turns, windy and rough
Who knew decisions can be so tough
Will I do wrong? Will I go astray?
The journey of life, finding my way
Which route do I take? Which direction to start
Mistakes I will make, in making my mark
A voyage in learning, searching for a dream
Slowly in coming, now losing steam
The passage of time, searching for hope
Finding my way, learning to cope
Going through motions, trying to thrive
Fighting these emotions, wanting to survive

It's sad seeing a couple taking their vows
Knowing he gave up being my spouse
Gazing at one another adoration and love
Ready to take what the world asks of
Wishing my best to the newly wed
Even though he just up and left
Replaying the vows we said in my head
Aching and hurting my heart full of lead
Heartbreaking to watch, our love still died
Even though mine ended in doom
Congratulations to the bride and groom

Lay down to sleep, my thoughts all a mess
Can't settle down with all of this stress
Emotions screaming, full paranoia
Weight upon me, a giant sequoia
Constant mood, loneliness and despair
Hurts so much. Why do I care?
Guilt courses, along in my veins
Feels like I'm going totally insane
Head on my pillow, unable to sleep
Tears from my eyes, starting to seep
Staring at the ceiling. Time ticks ahead
Just lying awake, here in this bed