

Facing A Two-Faced World

I'm telling you wisest,
 So you can know
 You don't agree,
 And that is the problem
 I speak reality,
 Where you just debate
 I saw this world,
 From a place that you couldn't
 By my brains as source,
 I have the truth
 You just won't listen

I'm speaking strongest,
 So you can tell
 You don't agree,
 And that's the problem
 I tell what's fact,
 Where you just debate
 I heard this world,
 From a place that you couldn't
 By my mind as cited,
 I have the truth
 You just won't listen

We face our seconds in invisible minds
 Our hearts are anonymous, and
 Our views are entangling

We seek to be seen,
 But, not to look inwards

But, each-every person who takes in this thought
 Those will be ones

That ever unify

Those disagreeing will perish,
 In tact
 A truer side was formed,
 Right here
 We'll take down their mouths,
 And make us the winners
 We'll start up a job,
 For our own good
 Their missiles were launched,
 So, we'll fight for a cause
 And that's really the world

Those foolish will wither,
 In pact
 A grander team was formed,
 We'll take down their thoughts,
 And make us the winners
 We'll start up a job,
 For our own good
 Their cannons were fired,
 So we'll fight for a cause
 And that's colder reality

You speak in a truth
 You speak from your heart

But, none of the speeches are better than mosts'

There's fact in your words,
 But, no pact in wars

I see you forsaken
 I'll say you'll fall

You tore up our families
 You took all our friends
 You're criminals to death,
 And we'll see it happen
 You've caused big damage,
 While we're individuals
 You had it wrong,
 And you should be paying

You wrecked up our lives
 You stole what was good
 You're terrorists in secret,
 And we'll see justice
 You've caused big damage,
 While we're individuals
 You had it wrong,
 And you should be paying

I've wondered in pain, and found myself truths
 I've washed away pain, and found myself goods

But, most of us fear, and most of us close

The story I see, in this writing moment,
 Is a dysfunctional family that fights over borders

With weaponry might, you have beliefs
 With potential sight, you hold your guns

But, lots of us see this, and that is my world

Those Thorns There

Wait, Wishing
 The tips touch to topple
 Your years, years, and yelp
 No amount will end it

Wait, watching
 Pounds pouncing penetrate precisely
 Man's mortal make-up
 No amount of doubting will lead to that harm

Clench, cringing
 How harmed-- he helpless
 His home, heart, and hood
 No man will bring him back

Launch, lounging
 So sad, she stuck steep
 Sing sweet, sullen soundtracks
 No woman will forget her, now

Those thorns there thump thoughts
 Our air ousts of artery outs
 Vouch, vow, and don't dare

Those thorns there...
 ... Thieve thoughtless thieves

Expressing My Personal View Towards News

The lies we highlight, and the ties we byline?
 Not the issues, not in entirety

The stories we sell, and tales we tell?
 Not the breakers, not in truest

But,

We do tell news
 We do.

You see that story, and you do like the posts.

The fame we make, and game we rake?
 Those aren't told. Those are truer

The bites we kite, and vines we wine?
 Those "aren't" truer. Those are "tales"

But,

We do tell news
 We do.

One tragic teen death went on, while thousands happened.
 Some beautiful dress went live, while theories did not.
 I submitted some ways, not known yet.
 And, saw nothing come on, for months.

News does work, and has its worth...

But, RNA supplications-- to lighting as power-- are "worthless"
 A utility-valid method to preventing a tsunami?
 A tested IQ score that day-breathes a patent?

No.

Just others.

Others were worth it.

It "must" be me.
