

So far away

So far apart

I can't believe I hold your heart

Taking it slow

Easy to go

All the way a very steep slope

Don't look too far

Don't look too close

I'll be your drug a double dose

Let's take a risk

Let's dive right in

I promise you we will win

Don't be afraid

Don't hold your breath

We'll be together until death

With this pain all around me and there's nothing I can do but watch it unfold
But this is my ray of sunshine
A haven to keep me warm from the cold
So hold me close, hold me tight, and hold till the morning light
Seeps in through the curtains
Keep me safe
cause I am certain, I'll never let you go

A princess of a beautiful heartache
Sees us in worlds of indigo and blue
She feels for the loneliest of heartbreak
Flowing and flashing like the morning dew

This princess wonders in and out of time
And like a fountain she sinks like green grass
Taking with her all the troubles of dime
So let us travel to the world of glass

Caught up in her tangling webs
She had me dancing like a marionette
By her figure she had me when we first met

At first it was really great
We spent so much of our time chasing rain
I was medication used to drown her pain
Broken and used up...

Clouds rolling in, hiding the sun
Thunder claps, all things stop
Lightning strikes, leaving no sun
Making the earth shake and drop
Drip Drip Drop

Ready to grow up and get old
Encircled with loving eyes
Seeing no fault
Blind to all that's around you...

Playing with swords and dragons
Delimited with blue flames
Fighting for life
Saving the damsel from him...

High school and drama rampant
Enclosed to fake smiles
Working so hard
Waiting for real life to start...

Lost in homework and expectations
Surrounded with angry eyes
Looking gleefully
Ready to tear you apart...
