

Endless love

Your eyes trap a smile of mine

Making my fear a false testimony of hate

Some thrills to print my joys

Innocent gestures to tell this world love has no dizziness

Your wish becomes my fantasy while my shade remains your captive.

The little one

*It's been more than ten years
Since you promised to return
The little one knows how to pray
The middle one looks just like you
I am the confused one
With fear to brave
To ensure safety
Losing appetite
If they need to be fed
Hiding to cry
Before I dried their eyes*

*I don't know if it's less painful
Knowing he is not used to you
Telling him stories at night
I guess
Some mornings would have been
Too hard for me to keep up with
Thank you for always been
Ahead of my challenges*

*I am pretty good at
Updating my lies
About you visiting countries
Working for big companies
How hard it is to communicate with us
Sometimes he will ask the right question
When I don't have the right answer
That's why I master
Subject changing*

*I wish life was a recorded song
When missing your kindness
It could have been easily restored
Just by pressing a button*

*Too bad for us Mom!
We are real actors
But we are not on TV
There is no super power
To bring you back
If I keep up with the gods
And this poem won't have Any side effect on you*

*I wish all of this
Was folded in a plastic dream
Waiting for me to unfold them
Before I go to school
Now I truly understand
Why, you used to be so afraid of tomorrow*

*It scares me too
One day he took a picture of you
And kissed it with a teary face
I trembled in front him
Not realizing
The truth is always safe
No matter where it's being placed*

*He gave me a self-satisfied look
To make me feel he understood.*

Voluptuous

*Your lips tango the blue shape of the kiss
Your arms crystallize all the noise of the world
In my chest
Love has no parallel
Your eyes also
My life is made entirely by you
Open and ready
Like a blank page?*

*You touch my heart
When you are whispering to yourself
In my inner emotions
You pull out dizziness in my dream
When the moon hid his face
Behind your sophisticated nature
I have no greater fantasy
Than confine my presence in your presence
Your excitement is my favorite side of the sun*

*My name gets so intense
In your voice
Seal my ears for the worth of your words
Without no fear for my destiny
I surrender my faith in your belief*

*Your hands connect me
With the missing echo of my soul
Your body's rhythm defines the fine lines of my body
Like a river collecting in a slow motion
The clear reflection of the sky
Your absence empties my right
To be escorted to my room
I can't flirt with my silence anymore*

*I don't want to sing
If you are not the song
I don't want to dance
If you are not the beat
I don't want to think of any other way
Of feeling good
If your way of feeling good it's not included*

*Take me to your tongue
Where guns changed to flowers*

*Take me to my shade
When your charm turns to be
The absolute remedy to free my everlasting bliss*

*Your enjoyment is a grace above
All captured reality
Your beauty
Flavored my senses
I am no longer a taste for wrongness*

*Help me carry your flame
Without getting burn
Help me manage my thoughts
Without losing them*

*Your breath brushes my skin
So soft and deep
Until I realize*

*There is no greater wine
Than the early morning kiss
From you
My beloved.*
