

To Soar

I feel a need to apologize

For all lingering scars I've dealt

However, I must continue to rise

For never shall I wilt

I must continue to go far and wide

My dear I cannot lie

Never shall I hide

My heart must continue to fly

These passing weeks have felt like death

My heart and brain on fire

I shall hide nothing beneath

These eyes from my situation so dire

But still I do want more

As I shall continue to soar
