

VIRTUOUS WOMAN

I was once a promiscuous woman lost and confused
I had so much pain and felt emotionally bruised
I came from a deserted dark place
I felt so lonely, ashamed and disgrace
All these pent up feelings inside
Feeling unworthy, oh how I despise
Caught up in casual and unrestrained sexual behavior
Desperately needing to be rescued by my Lord & Savior

Virtuous woman I set out to be,
A promise to Him, a promise to me
Virtuous woman I am today,
As my flesh once led me far away

Shaken and broken, twisted up in a curl
So mad and angry at all of the world
Feeling so disgusted and filled with grime
Why am I being punished like an evil act of crime?
I became someone I never expected to be
It was then I was finally able to see
The sinner in me is not how I'm identified as I'm totally free and sanctified

Virtuous woman I set out to be,
A promise to Him, a promise to me
Virtuous woman I am today,
As my flesh once led me far away

My old transgressions have been put to death
Now with Jesus, I take my first real true breath
No longer alone, buried in emotions and frightened
My life with Jesus has been woken and enlightened
No longer feeling cold, lonely with no one to hold
He quenched my thirst by satisfying my entire soul
He fully covered me in his pure and sacred gauze
And healed me of all my sinful acts and flaws

Virtuous woman I set out to be,
A promise to Him, a promise to me
Virtuous woman I am today,
As my flesh once led me far away

No more suffering, I've been washed and cleansed
Renewed life begins, as I've been totally forgiven
Transformed and no longer fooled by the flesh
I know I'm worthy and a work in progress
I dedicate my life to the Lord for a higher purpose
As he is the one and only God that I forever worship
I am an achiever as the victory has been won
God has shown me all of what I have become

Virtuous woman I set out to be,
A promise to Him, a promise to me
Virtuous woman I am today,
As my flesh once led me far away

I thank and praise you Lord for saving me,
Today, I am more than I ever expected to be

GREATER

Fearfully and wonderfully made
By the one and only creator
It does not matter what you say
It is within Him, I am greater

Why must you feel the need to shame me?
That humiliation is not my identity
It is not necessary to dishonor and disgrace
This is not something I choose to embrace
Why use words as an assault?
I take that with a grain of salt
It does not matter how you perceive me
You don't know me like the Almighty
Why do you compare yourself to me?
We each have our own unique qualities
I do not need your acceptance or approval
All of what you say to me is totally brutal

Fearfully and wonderfully made
By the one and only creator
It does not matter what you say
It is within Him, I am greater

Why do you taunt and ridicule me?
Higher power strongly disagrees
There is no need to inflict pain and suffering
I am protected with His covering
Why the deliberate betrayal and treason?
He created me this way for a purpose and reason
You do not have the authority to sabotage me
It is He, the Almighty that I will please
Why do you feel the need to judge me?
It is me, that He invests his time and energy
I don't deserve to be criticized and condemned
All that matters, is that I'm His precious gem

Fearfully and wonderfully made
By the one and only creator
It does not matter what you say
It is within Him, I am greater

NEVER GONNA GET ME

It's obvious you're a mean and malicious spirit
And I will no longer fear it, you must perish
Flipping things upside down and twisting them around
I am tired of you constantly breaking me down
You have been destructive with wrecks of havoc
Leaving me in shambles with great tragic
But you're never gonna get me,
You're never gonna get me down

Spirit of Rejection
You're never gonna get me
You're never gonna get me down

I sense and feel you percolating and brewing, you're not leaving my life desolated in ruins

Spirit of Rejection
You're never gonna get me
SpiriYou're never gonna get me down

I will tell you how I choose to walk
I receive the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross
I renounce you, as you have no place here
It is the blessings and abundance I keep near My breakthrough will see me through
And my declarations only speak the truth
I'm telling you that you're never gonna get me
You're never gonna get me down
