

Return Again

The warmth of your sun kissed lips raced through my head,

Every breath you breathe my heart followed,

The rhythm of your heart brought comfort to me,

When you wept I felt the agony of your pain and sorrow,

Believe it or not we were one before we even knew it,

My soul fed off your love,

Even if the hands of death tried to reach down and take me your strength protected me,

I always felt safe in your possession,

With you not around it is an empty black hole,

The walls of my heart are now a cage with steel bars that cannot be broken,

No lock,

Just throw away the keys,

It will never be the same until your presence glares deep into my soul and breaks what is locked up,

Until you return again my love..

Fears

She wants to be the first person that you share all your deep secrets with,

Claiming that your inner demons are eating at your thoughts at nights,

You wonder why,

You need to release all your anger and stop hiding behind your fears,

How could you allow one person to love you if you are not even giving them a chance to show you the love they have to offer?

You wished once upon a star,

Now allow your dream to come true,

Accept the fact that this is what love is,

It has some ups and downs but if it is strong it will not be defeated,

Put your fears behind you and open your heart to her,

You think she may not understand but she has inner demons she fights battles with too,

Come together and express the deep thoughts that hurting the both of you,

Turn those inner demons into angelic angels,

It may be the solution to your problem ..

Fought for you

*I fought for you,
When you thought nobody else was there for you,
I was there no matter what,
Right or wrong,
I cradled you in my arms like a newborn child as you cried why,
I shed tears for you,
To see such a strong person break down and cry,
Made my heart bleed,
I genuinely cared for you,
Just when you thought no else did,
You gave me hope so I thought I could do the same for you,
You restored the pieces to the missing puzzle,
But yet I'm still puzzled how,
How this went down,
You lit the match and didn't look back,
Which caused all this to burn down into flames ..*

Blind Love

Weeping silent teardrops,

Hoping that you would just pop up at my doorstep and shower me with your hugs and kisses,

Embracing me with the love we know never left,

Just a short debriefing,

You left and took my heart overseas with you,

The chemistry in our love made me come to my senses,

Realizing that all I really need and want is you,

I'm slowly dying inside,

Waiting to tell you all of my desires and passions,

I promised myself as soon as you return,

The emptiness in my heart would soon die out because I will finally be able to be in your arms again,

But is it too late?

All you wanted to do was love me for me,

I was just too blind to see that all this time ..

Never Again

The unbearable feeling of feeling unwanted and unappreciated,

A heart broken into tiny pieces and a soul lost wandering,

In search of a greater meaning of life,

So hurt that your eyes can't even cry a river,

It becomes dry and deserted like the desert,

The eyes are the gate way to the soul but your soul tells its own story,

The fear of falling into the depths of love frightens my soul,

Makes my body quiver and shake,

The thought of giving someone all of me again just to have my world crumble into pieces right before my eyes all over,

A horrifying picture,

How will I know if I don't try?

Because I cannot let myself fall for that kind of pain again ..
