

Poem 1-Duality

Does salt water and fresh water come from the same stream
Are your thoughts heard if you scream
Calculated actions
Based on your past interactions
Emptiness has all jurisdiction
Being your own adversary is a new addiction
Profound affliction
The old you is facing eviction
From the new you who is just— hurt

Thinking no one's burn the way burned
They haven't fought for what you earned
Where's the integrity
A lack of sincerity
Only still with them because of the familiarity
Still no clarity
Old me and new me facing polarity
I just miss my life with some regularity
Noticing all there insincerity
Getting to the point of disparity
Duality becoming our reality
Deception becoming ur perception

Rods right
I'm not mad im exhausted
Concerned if i've lost
Looking how far ive been removed
The old me would never approve
The way I think is strange
I guess its true people change
Will I get the chance to right my wrongs
Should I act like I belong
Saw a greenlight
But it doesn't seem right

Despite
All the desolate nights
I think the end is finally in sight
Some things feel fake like the pain that makes you ache

But evolving is real
Something that's hard to conceal
In toxicity for so long
Forget what it feels like to belong

Tears don't fall like they used to
For the new you
Wanted love
I wasn't ready for it
I'm better for it
Learned to commit
Opening up now
I think you would be proud
This is going to be profound

You get rewarding things in desperation
Less things for consideration
Your more than one person when your under transformation
Hard to be real but pretending is harder
I know i've always been somewhere darker

Poem 2-Limitless

Cultivating an environment
Where you are the requirement
An environment where I use you and you use me
But is it fine? because we both benefit ultimately
When loyalty is optional
Because trust sometimes becomes your biggest obstacle
Where people want to be known but not famous
Searching but not aimless
Pain and darkness seem limitless
Lies perpetual
Trauma used as an excuse to make radical decisions
So affliction begins to become deeper than an incision

Feelings are in the driver's seat
Solace out of reach
Same song on repeat
Avoiding issues like they're going away

Let's look somewhere else where its not on display
Let's be nonchalant
Look to the next
Sacrifice everything for someone who was always so complex
Giving it all away for the 5 minutes of pleasure and a lifetime of pain
Think i've lost more than i've gained
I was looking for something that i couldn't obtain

Rip to the parts of me that I can't get back
To people who tried so hard to show me where i was at Think your hearts been changing
From the pain you've been facing
Want rewards without work
Expect good things with no hurt

Truth is quiet and lies are loud
Honesty always something to be so profound

Poem 3- More of you less of me

More of you and less of me
Maybe then I wouldn't have tried so many other things
Tried to change in ways that didn't make sense
Not caring was my biggest tool of defense
I was here until I wasn't
Never saw the benefit of it

I've been looking for the tangible feeling of consolation
Waiting on something to give me motivation
I've always disliked having conversations
I guess I just resort to isolation
If there's more of you and less of me
No darkness can be there, I guarantee
I could see myself to finally be at peace
I would leave that space of constant decrease

Sleeping always been how I cope
But everything's the same when I awoke
Hours thinking on the same topic
Usually on something that was so microscopic

More of you and less of me
Then there would be no more space between There's something different about your intimacy
The only one who knows me so intricately
Sometimes I don't even know myself

Having friends is overrated
Betrayal so pervasive
All that hurt penetrating
Thinking to forgive then hesitating
If there is more of you and less of me
Jesus would be all you see

Poem 4- You have no peace

I'm always clueless like Cher
But you calculated and manipulative smiling ear to ear
When driven by infatuation
It's a path to devastation
But you like the purge had a mask
But torment was coming to pass

My mistake, you had other plans
Gave my life in your hands
When I looked in your eyes
All I could see was deep rooted lies
Your heart is vacant
And I'm not very patient
Being with you, I see a graveyard
How long can I bring roses before I too, disregard
You're Harley Quinn on the inside
And Barbie on the outside
But how long can you keep Harley on the sidelines
The place in you where a soul should be
Has faced eviction
So now love and affection

Remain a temporary subscription
You'll never know me
Because you don't know yourself

I picked you brain to see what you know
You picked my to see how far you could go
When I finally said no
It sent shivers up your spine
The girl you cultivated made by your design
The way you look is the most interesting thing about you
Why have you been searching for days
And still cant see my value

Do you know me?
Do you know how I perceive aspects of life that haven been conceived
Are you aware that intellect is an aspect
There's no where that I lack
Have you considered that there's more to me
Below the surface
Or does thinking about that make you nervous

Comprehending life outside of yourself
Like locating an elf on a shelf
It's not hard
But what's hard for you
Is getting to the core
Deep down to moments you deplore
Where you have been picked apart piece by piece
You called 911 but never saw the police
And this is why you have no piece

Poem 5- Do I trust you

Betrayed
You betrayed me
Again
You did it again and again and again
Over
You pushed me over for the last time
You said you'd never
And he said forever
But now you both make sick

Can't stand to let go
But I have to break hold
Its all for my benefit
Somehow I hope I forget
It's strange to imagine that I couldn't fathom it happening all again
Like a PTSD I'm stuck in a dream
Of people treating me badly
The toxicity is roaring
Like a PTSD i'm stuck in a dream
Of people treating me badly
It's strange to imagine that i couldn't fathom it happening all again
Wrong
Somehow i'm the one in the wrong
Crying
Somehow your the one who ended up crying

Physco
Your both just so psycho
It's driving me mad
Praying
I'll be praying for you because you need it most
You were my best friend
And your my ex boyfriend
But now u both make me sick
So i'm leaving then i'll be content
Somehow I hope I forget
It's strange to imagine that I couldn't fathom it happening all again
Like a PTSD i'm stuck in a dream
Of people treating me badly
The toxicity is roaring

Its people whos closest
Who are most relentless
With making my life misery
Why won't you let me be

Doing things you would never do
Thought you grew
Well that's under review
Questioning every move
But now u dont care if they disapprove

Not sure if this
The u u show me and the u i see
Thought i knew u instantly
