

Surrealist Poetry

u miss real r

noble chard waits
for quaint tapir
while moss vista ebbs.
who wants chert pizza?
pod and gourd droop wanly
neon zebra nestles
o bassoon!
a chortle scurries anon, riveted by irate Saint Salmon.
I noodle with your poodle.
dormouse flings paint
yell to panda slime
dragon beams at my besom!
ramble 'round the moon's eye mole raves on trivia curly ant shimmies & sings . . . ◇

sleepy Triclops

the sight of 9 rye breads will empty out my head
I cry for the chai but I hang my pie out to dry brine unexplained — oyster beds align lovely red porcupine tickles my spine threads entwine, high in the sky I hum a spry line
but no, time for bed! ◇

Surrealist Poetry

it's what Brian Eno would do

A Chihuahua playing a guitar, practicing its own logic.

Choose pink or my neighbor's cat.

The jet-pack monkey rejects boring dudes everywhere!

Mellow yellow. ◇

Mind-full ~ Luminous Daybreak

I awaken from a dream

What remains to retrieve?

newts and water snakes sliiiiide & glide brooding runes blaze from loose leaves true blue daisy chains rife with surprise luminous shrew earth-shakes in disguise puce kaiser roll for xylophone's child . . .

Just a wily deep gleam of surmise in my eyes ◇
