

the air was salty everything else empty

moment of silence

hides dreams

woefully unfulfilled

emptiness in the air

literally chokes

taking my air

put me down on the ground

continuous vegetation

with loneliness love in big ocean

with thoughts dance

under the sky with stars

silence

like a response to world

to plastic people

and posed pictures

loneliness

like a response to silence true that doesn't need to be said.