

TO MY LOVE

My mind cannot comprehend that a woman would e'er love me.

Yet before me stands an angel and a miracle I see.

For years I prayed for an answer to what lays in store for me.

And perhaps this is my answer my future it is she.

She speaks with words of beauty and romantic love.

She sets my soul on fire and makes my heart fly alike a dove.

My mind still cannot comprehend why someone would e'er love me.

Yet before me stands an angel and a miracle I see.

Her faith has been tried by fire in the crucible of loss.

But the pain she held within her was assuaged

When she nailed it to the cross.

I still cannot comprehend that someone would e'er love me.

Yet an before me stands an angel and a miracle I see.

THE FIRE OF YOUR LOVE

As I read your letter each word makes my emotions fly.

The smoke and ashes of my soul raise into the sky.

Each word is like a flaming arrow and a fiery dart
That find the target of my soul and plunge deep into my heart.

My mind is ruled by passion each thought clouded by desire

I ache and cry as I am consumed by a never ending fire

It is only you that can quench the flame of my heart's desire

Please return to me and let burn as one and my flame become our fire

WHERE ARE YOU

Please my love where Are you, are you in another's arms?

Is there another that you run to beguiled by your charms?

Please my dear angel come back e'er my broken heart bleeds till I die.

Heal my heart cure my soul and assuage the pain for which I cry.

Please return do not kill me I beg I call I plead.

Nothing else will save it is you love I need.

Yes my love where are you are you in another's arms.

Is there another that you run to beguiled by your charms.

DO NOT REMAIN A DTRANGER

Do not remain a stranger your heart calls to me.
I languish for that glorious day when your beauty I do see.
No do not be a stranger your heart calls to me
I languish for that glorious day when your beauty I do see.

To cure my broken and aching heart let me hold you in my arms.
Let gaze into your eyes of love and be beguiled by your charms.

Let me say "I love you when we meet face to face.

And reach that glorious day when I feel your warm embrace Please do not be a stranger your heart calls to me.

And I languish for that glorious day that your beauty I do see.

THE END OF LOVE

You have said it's over

You no longer share my love

And no that you have left me

I have lost what love is of

My heart bleeds a crimson flow
Through each cut, rip and gash
Our flame is snuffed aborning
And my soul has turned to ash

Why did you leave me
I do not understand
All the words of endless love
Now are as worthless as the sand
