

“The Return to the Garden”

8 hours a day, 5 days out of the week?

Is this the new norm?

Now we have plastic in what we eat, drink, and breath

Down with the work week, this social construct we can build a better one in place

as hosts of the living space

Paradise is found in gardens more valuable than gold where never ending provision of enrichment grows