

1. Empath

I ask my tears,
Why are you falling?
They say,
We are not yours,
We are of others,
That no one ever bothers,
Then we cross the path,
Across the heart,
Of an Empath,
Who feels everything to the infinite skies,
So we fall through her epithermal eyes.

2. A White Prince Dream

After a night of snowfall,
When I see a beautiful bluebird,

Shimmering like a pearl on my windowpane,
Feels like a white prince dream in the golden rein,
From a long-awaited winter's fairytale.

3. 12 Beautiful Springs

On a dusky evening,
I saw her on a note of 12-string guitar ;
She seemed like an angel had wished upon a shooting star,
In the darkest clouds veiled in melancholy,
She resonated like a robin bird song in January,
Our love arrived like an unexpected drizzles of December,
Illuminating the fallen leaf of autumn in its petrichor,
That night when she disappeared at a winter's fire on broken strings,
I almost felt like,
I lost her like I lost 12 beautiful springs.

4. Loveless Moon

Far off I dazzle,
Deep into your thoughts, I travel,

For the seekers, I am their cherished divine,
With my monochrome, every ache is moonshine,
In my eclipse, all the broken hearts take solace,
Through my loneliness, you are no longer a Loveless,
How could you ever feel and touch the tears of mine?
How would you see through the deep darkness that I hide?
I am the lonely moon always devoid of love,
To your eyes, I will always be a beautiful muse that fills your void.

5. Resurrection

Each day you will die,
Every night you will rise again,
With this bliss you are perfection,
Oh ! my love, I am your Resurrection.
