

You are never alone

For my children

I am the leaves in the trees

The breath of a breeze

The trace of the clouds

And warmth of the sun

I am the sea on the sand

And the the colours of the rainbow

the murmuration

And the starlight

The radiance of the moon

And the depth of the ocean

the waves and the white caps

I am the soil and the clay

I am the green of the fields

And the colours of summer

I am the mountains

And the snow

I am the wind and the rain

the babbling brook

I am here now

I am everywhere

And...

I am, with you...

Always

35 years in August

A poem for my husband

Someone who knows

Just what you need

A soul who loves me

Through thick and thin

We have had our blows

We have had our fun

But now the good times

They have begun

No words needed

Just a look

A knowing smile

A touch, a whisper

Is love exceeded

Gone are the hard times

The fall outs

The tears

The kids, the bills

The schools

The years

We fought to get here

But happy we did

We have some time

To share our love

How happy are we

That we fit like a glove

Come hold my hand

Together we go

A duo

A team

A couple

A pair

Together for always

And always be there.

Happy anniversary, My Love.
