

I know i havnt been around but me and your mother havnt been on the same page

She has alot of anger towards me but she shouldn't be the one to blame

I've made some bad choices and I've made some fake promises maybe thats why she treats us this way

But just known im here for u all i know its hard but we will get over this one day

When I look in your eyes I see the pain

You act like your ok but you know deep down we both feel the same.

I let you down as your dad when I walked away from your mom that day.

I know we all are hurting but your hurting more in every way.

You see as a man you have a choice to make .

Well that day I left I thought it was best but it was just a mistake.

You see your mom with someone new every single day .

But you build a hate you just can't accept nomatter what we say .

You have to learn my son it's not your mom at fault that she went away.

It was the broken heart I gave her that she didn't want every single day.

I failed to love her and make her my number one.

She felt she had no choice but to go and find someone.

We build a hate that we just can't take away.

We all went through hurt the same way in all those days.

Your brother didnt know exactly what was going on.

But u know exactly how much I loved your mom.

Maybe that's why you hurt cuz you see her with another man.

But maybe oneday you will know I couldn't be that man.

Cuz just like u hurt well my heart hurts more then I can stand .

But I promise no matter how hard this is. it will all work out as plan.

We can use this as a life lesson for us all to understand .

Ill teach you hate wont get you anywhere you need to forgive and understand

Being rude and mean is no good for anyone

You need to know we all do something wrong but that isnt what makes a person

The way he takes care of his family no matter what is what will get u a good woman

You'll see the fight in me and I'll show you how to love a woman.

So that day you find one you'll treat her like she's your queen like a real man.

So my next time I love I wont take her for granted and I'll love her the best I can.

So let's take this as our life lesson as a father and and 2 cuz what i want is for you 2 to be is that you 2 young kids grow up to be 2 of the best well raised men
