

My Need to Believe

A sudden realization hits me

Like a slam to the chest

Now I can clearly see

All my worries are put to rest

Heaven is real

You await me at the gate

Without you I feel

Lost, and doomed to fate

God is real

I will see you again

My ability to heal

Lies with you, and all the courage you send

You are my need to believe

In a God of forgiveness

I know I will receive

Eternal love and happiness
