

Excerpts From 84 Days of Poetry

Day 1

Cut me open
So I feel it
Touch my wound
And try to heal it
I've been beaten
Barely breathin
Not much left I
Can believe in
I've been held down
I've been locked up
I thought I was the Reason
People left me
And forget me
Every changing of the season
Never steady
Then you met me
And I changed
Now I'm ready
For you to stitch me
Up and make me whole
I move from place to place
But you
You are my home

Day 14

My heart aches

For you

Even when you're mine

Even when you're on the other side

My heart breaks

For you

Every time you lie

And pass me right by

My heart shakes

For you

Day 62

Trace out my name when you touch me all over my body
I stare at you with all the lights on and make love to you like I wasn't made for anything else
I want to sing you lullabies until you're asleep on me
I watch your face start to change as you slip away from this world
That's how I'll feel when you walk down the aisle in your wedding dress
You don't have to ask me if I'm okay
Even when I can't smile I feel you in my veins flowing sweetly through me I've never been able to make up my mind until you and I will never take back my heart
The day I met you was magic and now so is every day
Your light kisses tingle all over my body, even hours after you're gone
I cry when I watch the sun rise over you as your beauty overwhelms me and I can only feel love
We've been destined for each other a thousand lifetimes
I was missing something until I met you and my heart remembered every touch, every promise, every memory and when my bones are tired and I lay down for the last time it will be next to you and I'll be waiting to meet you again for the first time

Day 68

I don't respond well to touch
My damn genetics fucked me up
I was born with darkness in my soul
Chaotic when I lose control
Deep in my chest
My muscles defined
I was born to make change
And never die
I play dirty
Learned that with dope
Pretty pretty things
Swim inside me
Don't tell
Don't you dare
I dreamt of a mermaid who stole my heart
And helped me drown
In sunshine water
You just can't see the whole depth
I'm obsessed

Day 78

On a scale of one to ten
You're a hundred High score
clothes on the floor
everything I wanted
love me more
make me sore
Rugged
the rain pours
on all fours
Touches
Beautiful touches
mind numbing touches
bursts of ecstasy
luscious
I love it
I fucking love it
