

Experience of Life

Feeling our first birth
when we come to earth
we feel joy
Meeting girls and boys
to share some story
it could be of glory
it could be something sad that made you glad
it could be pain
when will it wane
you could feel hot or warm
Maybe you're in a rainstorm all we are trying to forget is the raging wind
what we see
people, places, things
colors, winter, summer
fall and spring
are all worth remembering.

He Said, She Said

He said, I wear blue and I love you,

She said, I wear pink, we have a strong link.

He said, I can play ball, and I am tall.

She said, I think we can whisper.

He said, I think I can kiss her.

She said, I'm happy right now.

He said, maybe we could take a vow.

Two lovers forever young, sometimes having fun!

The Start of a new day

I wake up from sleep
To see the morning
Creep
I get up, get dressed
I try not to be depressed
I go out into the street
To go to the store to See the people I meet
They give me my morning
Tea
Actually, they do set me free
I go to the program
To serve people food
I'm in a good mood
The staff in the program
Guide me
They help me cope with my daily routine they give me self-esteem,
To go to bed to sleep
Again another day creeps

Cardinal

I saw a cardinal land on a branch,
I knew it wasn't in France
It moved like it was a dance
It showed bright red
It moved its head
It had a distinct sound
It got around Somewhere else to be found

Elementary School

I studied History and Math,
I was on the right path,
I took Reading and Art,
It was a good start
I took English and Music
Also
The boys and girls came Every day to school, they were no fools
They were smart kids
They went to a better Future
To succeed in the world
It was a very long time Ago those school days
I am very amazed
I don't look back too often
I have fond memories of Elementary school.
