

Sunshine Kisses

Don't wait until you have the house, the job, the car, the friends,
The marriage, the moment— "you'll be happy when...".

It's now, my son, it's now—not then.

The everyday monotony, paying bills, fixing leaks—
the car just broke, you're vacationing.

It's happening, pause—take hold. Breathe it in.

It's everything,

it's everything.

It's love and joy, it's frustrating.

It's all at once, it's in the waiting.

Can you see that it's beautiful?

The missing pieces, stories untold?

Let it catch you, reel you in,
this life of yours, be taken with.

Skies that will never be just like this,
sunshine kisses on your skin,
breathe it in, just be in it.

Don't miss the moment, the secret is,
this is it—this is perfect.
