

Sorry for not being there

Sorry for all that I do didn't care when I should've cared

By Not being there for you

Should've gave my time to you

Should've of held your soft hand

Wished I gave you a better view

Wished I was a gentleman

What I am I'm not proud of

I never should've crossed that line

Love and trust I'm out of

I must accept what is mine

The blame and shame's on me

I will take on all this guilt

Committed love larceny

With the distrust I had built

Forever my apologies

What I did can't be forgiven

Committed love Atrocities

Must live with sentence given

Life for me without parole

I'm seeing you for the last

Locked out for the love I stole

Our time has timely passed
