

Trailblazed

Forge On

When the road is windy
The mud is deep
And the trudge is long
Forge on
There may be an end
Maybe, just that, you find rest in the small things
And with faith, a few miracles along the way
A little happiness never hurt
But it's the joy in love that counts
Finding love in the small things
And the big
That rose, just waitin to be smelled
All the good times
And the bad
All the memories, all the pain, all the joy
Don't fear
Just forge on and reap the reward

Trailblazed

Somedays I Wonder

Somedays I wonder
Other days I ponder
What it means to walk alone on this old lonely road
I tread a path through darkness then I sing a song
A lonely song a poor song a sickly song of sorrow
On this path I walk alone on this path I tread
I make a new path every time I sing this same old song
A lonely song a poor song a sickly song of sorrow
Let me sing a song of freedom, a song of liberty
So to this tune I sing a song I sing a song anew
A song of plunder, of running asunder a song that breathes air into me anew
A song of change, a song of love
As I walk this same old lonely path alone
As I walk alone I see the flowers begin to bloom
This million mile marker is but one of few
The path does not change, yet I remain stronger
As love do
I choose this path of solitude
This long lonely road, with sorrowful sickly song along it
I walk in isolation, desolation around me
Until I come to a crossroad
Well, it was liberty I did seek, so freedom to choose I shall make
And as I walk each path, singing this tune
I see flowers beginning to bloom
And as the desolation fades, trees begin to arise, each an oasis of shade
Around me somedays I wonder
Other days I ponder
What it means to walk alone on this old lonely road
I tread a path through darkness then I sing a song
A lonely song a poor song a sickly song of sorrow
On this path I walk alone on this path I tread
I make a new path every time I sing this same old song
A lonely song a poor song a sickly song of sorrow
Let me sing a song of freedom, a song of liberty
So to this tune I sing a song I sing a song anew

Trailblazed

Onward and Upward

Onward and up ward I go
Ahead I forge alone
To find the answer
To find truth and to find love as it lives on inside
What answers I may carry, maybe we will never know
I forge on ahead alone
God true to the last
Hope will prevail
To seek the burden I carry
As the righteous do
Who may know
What I am
And what I do
Who I will be and what can save me
I do this on my own
I forge on alone
Onward and up ward
I may prove myself
No doubt in my mind
To find the truth
Within me
Faith in I
I turn back, realizing the love and the deeds I have shared
I let go and forge on
Never alone