

“Donna”

She has a rainbow's grace
Stunning
I'm mesmerized by her symmetry
The engaging is exhilarating
When I attack, I use a map to make her climax
She surprises me with her desires and teaches me with meekness
Happily laughing
I'm tickled by the kindle
Such a vision, she overflows with glow
And when the sparks start, she mocks with luminosity
She wills it wields it
Soft as straw woven into gold
I'm corrupted by the very touch
A glutton
Restored by the pouring Rescued
The toxins are so erotic, that I'm drunk off the escape embarrassed, because she merrily cares
So understanding
Appreciative of all that I give
So concealed
Delicate
So I'm slow
Careful with Arrows
She's dove-like
Unfettered as if she had feathers
The sky is too vast, so we were brought together
