

Beer and Wine

Its been a year
Since I've seen your spine
But after the fourth beer
I could tell that you were mine
My dear
It was a sign
We met on the pier
Drank down the wine
Since then, its been clear
That we were on cloud nine
Bright like a chandelier
Till we lost our shine.

Color In

There exists a world
Consisting of only colors
As magical as a dream
The grass is of electrifying emerald
The sunflowers are dripping of goldenness
It appears as pixels composed of only the brightest colors
Your hair flows of fiery oranges
Your lips are a perfect mixture
Of bold scarlet
And bloody crimson
An artist's masterpiece
Until he smears it with his paintbrush

My Little World

There's this little place of mine
So mysterious
Would you like to go with me?
The entrance is in any body of water
You must do it on a sunny day
Once inside, you must rotate upside down
Open your eyes and relax
Stare into the sun
Everything will fall
Like a dream
Well it is one
Only it's real
In a blink of an eye
You will be transported
To a wonderful place
Indescribable

Colors are of magnificent contrast
The land are hovering isles
Here you feel like you are floating
Like in water only better
Fire and water shoots up in the sky and explodes
Like a massive firework
Fruit here is just simply amazing
Go ahead and try it!
One bite gives your tongue goosebumps
Your brain bursts in exclaim
Do you see why I like this little place
My get away
Better than the real world
Everything you touch makes a glorious sound
Anything you want
It comes real
Go try it!
Make your hair long
Grow wings
Sounds so wonderful doesn't it?
Why don't you try it?
Oh!
You have to drown and die
To get there

Fire

We fool with fire
I love how it turns to ash
It fills people with ire
I watch as they leave in a dash

A sick smile
Something beautiful missed
It is vile
We laugh as we kissed
